

Having XM radio is a blessing. Now that traffic reports are available for some markets and coming to others has really made the service more valuable. I work in Cable television. If you are going to try to limit satellite radio than the same should apply to television.